Beyond Events

Innovation is in our DNA. Once world leaders in linen production and shipbuilding, today we're making waves in Advanced Manufacturing, FinTech, MedTech, Life & Health Sciences, Digital and Creative Industries.

Belfast is a powerhouse of talent and home to two world-class universities shaping a better world through life-changing education and research.

Our compact size is our strength - we've a dynamic and connected eco-system of SMEs and researchers, global corporations and start-ups. Visit Belfast works with over 1,300 business, medical and academic leaders as part of our Ambassador Circle who are invaluable hosts and connectors for inbound meetings and events.

Advanced Manufacturing

Northern Ireland has always had a rich engineering legacy being the world's first aircraft manufacturers and the location of the world's greatest shipbuilders at Harland and Wolff. We are still home to a vibrant advanced manufacturing and engineering sector with experience now spanning across aerospace and defence, automotive, construction, materials handling, electronics, and consumer products.

Food & Drink

Food and Drink is a £5.4 billion industry in Northern Ireland and is the region's largest manufacturer. Our success is down to our pure, lush countryside, and farmers and producers who are dedicated to traceability and passionate about quality. Northern Ireland boasts high-quality raw ingredients, state-of-the-art processing facilities and a world-class food security record which major retailers demand. Our award-winning food and drink comes with full traceability from farm to fork.

Technology

The region enjoys an international reputation as a region of expertise and knowledge in tech development and has one of the fastest growing tech sectors in the UK. This is an exciting time for the region as its strong local base of software engineering skills has supported the development of several business clusters including cyber security; telecom, mobile & data networks; AI & data analytics; IT & cloud services; fintech, govtech, and sports tech.

Financial, Professional & Business Related Services

The region is leading the way in providing a wide range of international financial services solutions including fund administration, investment operations, regulatory compliance, and risk management, in support of the global capital markets, asset management and banking industries. The professional services cluster in Northern Ireland includes companies that have reached significant scale, having developed large multi-disciplinary teams.

Life & Health Sciences

Northern Ireland is a prime location for life and health sciences businesses, thanks to a unique combination of talented people, world-class research and strong links between industry, academia, and clinicians, in the commercialisation of innovative research. Areas of expertise include Precision medicine, pharma and bio tech, clinical trials, diagnostics and med tech.

Green Economy

Northern Ireland's engineering, technological and construction expertise makes it an ideal location for businesses focusing on the renewables and energy sector. We are emerging as a region of excellence with a range of innovative design, manufacturing, installation, operation, and maintenance companies within several sub-sectors including wind, anaerobic digestion, biomass, energy from waste low carbon construction.

Arts & Culture

Belfast has art and culture as its heart and soul. After all, Northern Ireland has produced some of the world's most famous poets, musicians and writers, from C.S. Lewis to Van Morrison. Our indie arts venues, historical theatres and world-renowned gig venues provide amazing spaces to nurture creativity and express individuality. Belfast is also a UNESCO Music City, one of only three cities in the UK to hold the prestigious title. In 2024, Belfast will unveil an ambitious cultural celebration including creative projects and events during the year.

Peace Building

Home to one of the most successful peace processes in the world, Belfast is considered a beacon of hope globally. 2023 marks the 25th Anniversary of the Belfast (Good Friday) Agreement which brought to an end, 30 years of conflict in Northern Ireland. The transformation since that time is nothing short of remarkable - Northern Ireland is number one for foreign direct investment in the UK outside of London, and Belfast is now an award-winning tourism and events destination, ranked 8th in the world for sustainability.

Food & Drink

Food reviewers have plated up praise for Belfast's food scene and there's nothing like exploring a city, its restaurants and new culinary experiences to make mouth-watering memories. Belfast offers everything from Michelin star dining to the classic 'Ulster Fry' and the best sustainably sourced fish and chips around, so you won't leave disappointed!

There's also a wealth of tasty food experiences on offer from browsing at the award-winning St George's Market to sampling plates on a fun filled food tour, handpicking botanicals to distil gin or learning about the history and making of Irish whiskey, so make sure to allow time to savour an experience in and around Belfast.

Culture and Arts

From literary greats to a wealth of maritime history and musical legends to captivating street art - Belfast has culture and art in its heart and soul, with a vibrant and varied range of cool art spaces, creative places, fascinating museums, historical theatres and a thriving literary scene just waiting to be discovered.

Music City

Belfast is a city that truly loves live music, and was named a UNESCO City of Music in 2021. You're guaranteed to find something musical to enjoy on your visit here, whether it's toe-tapping traditional Irish music in one of our historic pubs, a standing room only gig in one of our top venues or an evening of soothing jazz or classical music, make sure to immerse yourself in some local musical talent.

Maritime

Belfast has a world-famous maritime history. As the home of Harland & Wolff, once the greatest ship builders in the world, the city was the birthplace of many iconic vessels including the renowned RMS Titanic. Today, the dockside offers plenty of sights, attractions and opportunities to delve into the history of the city, so take some time to explore the Maritime Mile and uncover the stories of Belfast's maritime past.

Get ready to hear more and feel more at the reimagined Titanic Belfast. With the addition of four exciting new themed galleries, you can now delve deeper into a reflective journey of the hopes and dreams of those impacted by the iconic ship at the world's largest Titanic visitor experience.

Green spaces

Belfast is one of the top cities in the UK for green attractions. From parks blooming with colour to peaceful canal side towpaths and the hills that surround the city providing breathtaking views, there really is something for everyone when it comes to enjoying some relaxing outdoor time in Belfast.

Ranked in the global top 10 most sustainable destinations, Belfast also offers a great range of walking and cycling tours, outdoor attractions and activities, green stays and eco-friendly travel.

Accessibility

Belfast has plenty of accessible sights and wheelchair-friendly attractions to discover as well as accessible venues including hotels, visitor attractions, shops, restaurants and bars, accessible public transport and taxis, mobility scooter and wheelchair hire and disabled car parking.

Sustainable Belfast

Meet in one of the most sustainable destinations in the world, Belfast is ranked 8th globally in the GDS (Global Destinations Sustainability Index). The GDS index is the world's leading sustainability performance improvement and benchmarking assessment for destinations. Belfast is the only destination in Ireland listed in the Top 10 and only one of two cities in the UK to make the Top 10. The Index assesses the city's sustainable performance across 75 criteria across environmental, social, industry and destination management categories.

Visit Belfast and our industry are committed to working with event organisers and delegates to deliver responsible and sustainable events with purpose.

FREE expert sustainability and impact support

Visit Belfast offers free expert support to help event organisers deliver sustainable events with purpose. This includes:

- Sourcing sustainable hotels, venues and experiences
- Carbon measurement, reduction and offsetting support
- CSR programmes
- Visit Belfast's Changing the Menu. For Good project
- Volunteering and fundraising
- Sourcing and loving local
- Sustainable travel and transport
- Food waste, reduction and donations
- Waste reduction and circular meeting design
- Healthy meetings and delegate wellness
- Sustainable choices for delegates
- Free sustainable events framework and resources
- Event legacy and impact support

Wellbeing

Events are a great way to encourage innovation, creative thinking and collaboration but travelling for a conference should not mean compromising on health and wellbeing. Visit Belfast can organise a 5k run and tour of the city for your delegates, yoga or meditation sessions at your venue. Why not make the most of the great outdoors with a Hydro Bike experience, paddleboarding, bike or walking tour to explore the stunning countryside and scenery of Northern Ireland.

Changing the menu. For good

Visit Belfast launched an award-winning social initiative to help raise funds and supplies for those experiencing food poverty in our city, by harnessing the power of events. Event organisers can choose a method that best suits their event from a '4th course', passing on an element of catering at the event, food to food donations and delegate donations.

Accessibility and inclusion

Belfast has plenty of accessible sights and wheelchair-friendly attractions to discover. Visit Belfast can provide advice on accessible venues, accommodation, public transport, mobility scooter and wheelchair hire, disabled car parking, BSL interpreters and general help for anyone who requires additional support on their visit to the city. Our visitor servicing team are inclusion trained and our visitor information centre is JAM Card trained.

Sustainable Event Framework

To help you make your Belfast conference more sustainable, we have developed a comprehensive, simple to use template which you can edit and amend for your own event. It includes over 50 practical actions across all areas of event planning with helpful links, resources, guides, useful information and sources of inspiration. This template is designed for organisers who are at the early stages of their sustainability journey and it is in an easy to use and editable Microsoft Excel format.

Everything about the help given by the Visit Belfast team was excellent. Short response times helped us make urgent decisions and you knew the team was always only a phone call away.

European Council on Eating Disorders (ECED) 2022

If you're considering Belfast as a destination for your future conference, we'd highly recommend it! Our experience has been nothing but positive and we found the whole city to be welcoming, friendly and helpful.

British Association of Critical Care Nurses Annual Conference 2022

...the Visit Belfast team couldn't have done more for us to help take some of the stresses away from us as event planners. From recommendations for restaurants, entertainment, transport, dinner venues and more! We certainly wouldn't hesitate to recommend Belfast as a city to host an event, It was nice to be wanted by a city.

British Association of Spine Surgeons 2022

Great venue (ICC Belfast), great people and great overall conference. Look forward to returning to Belfast in the future.

Association of Anaesthetists 2022

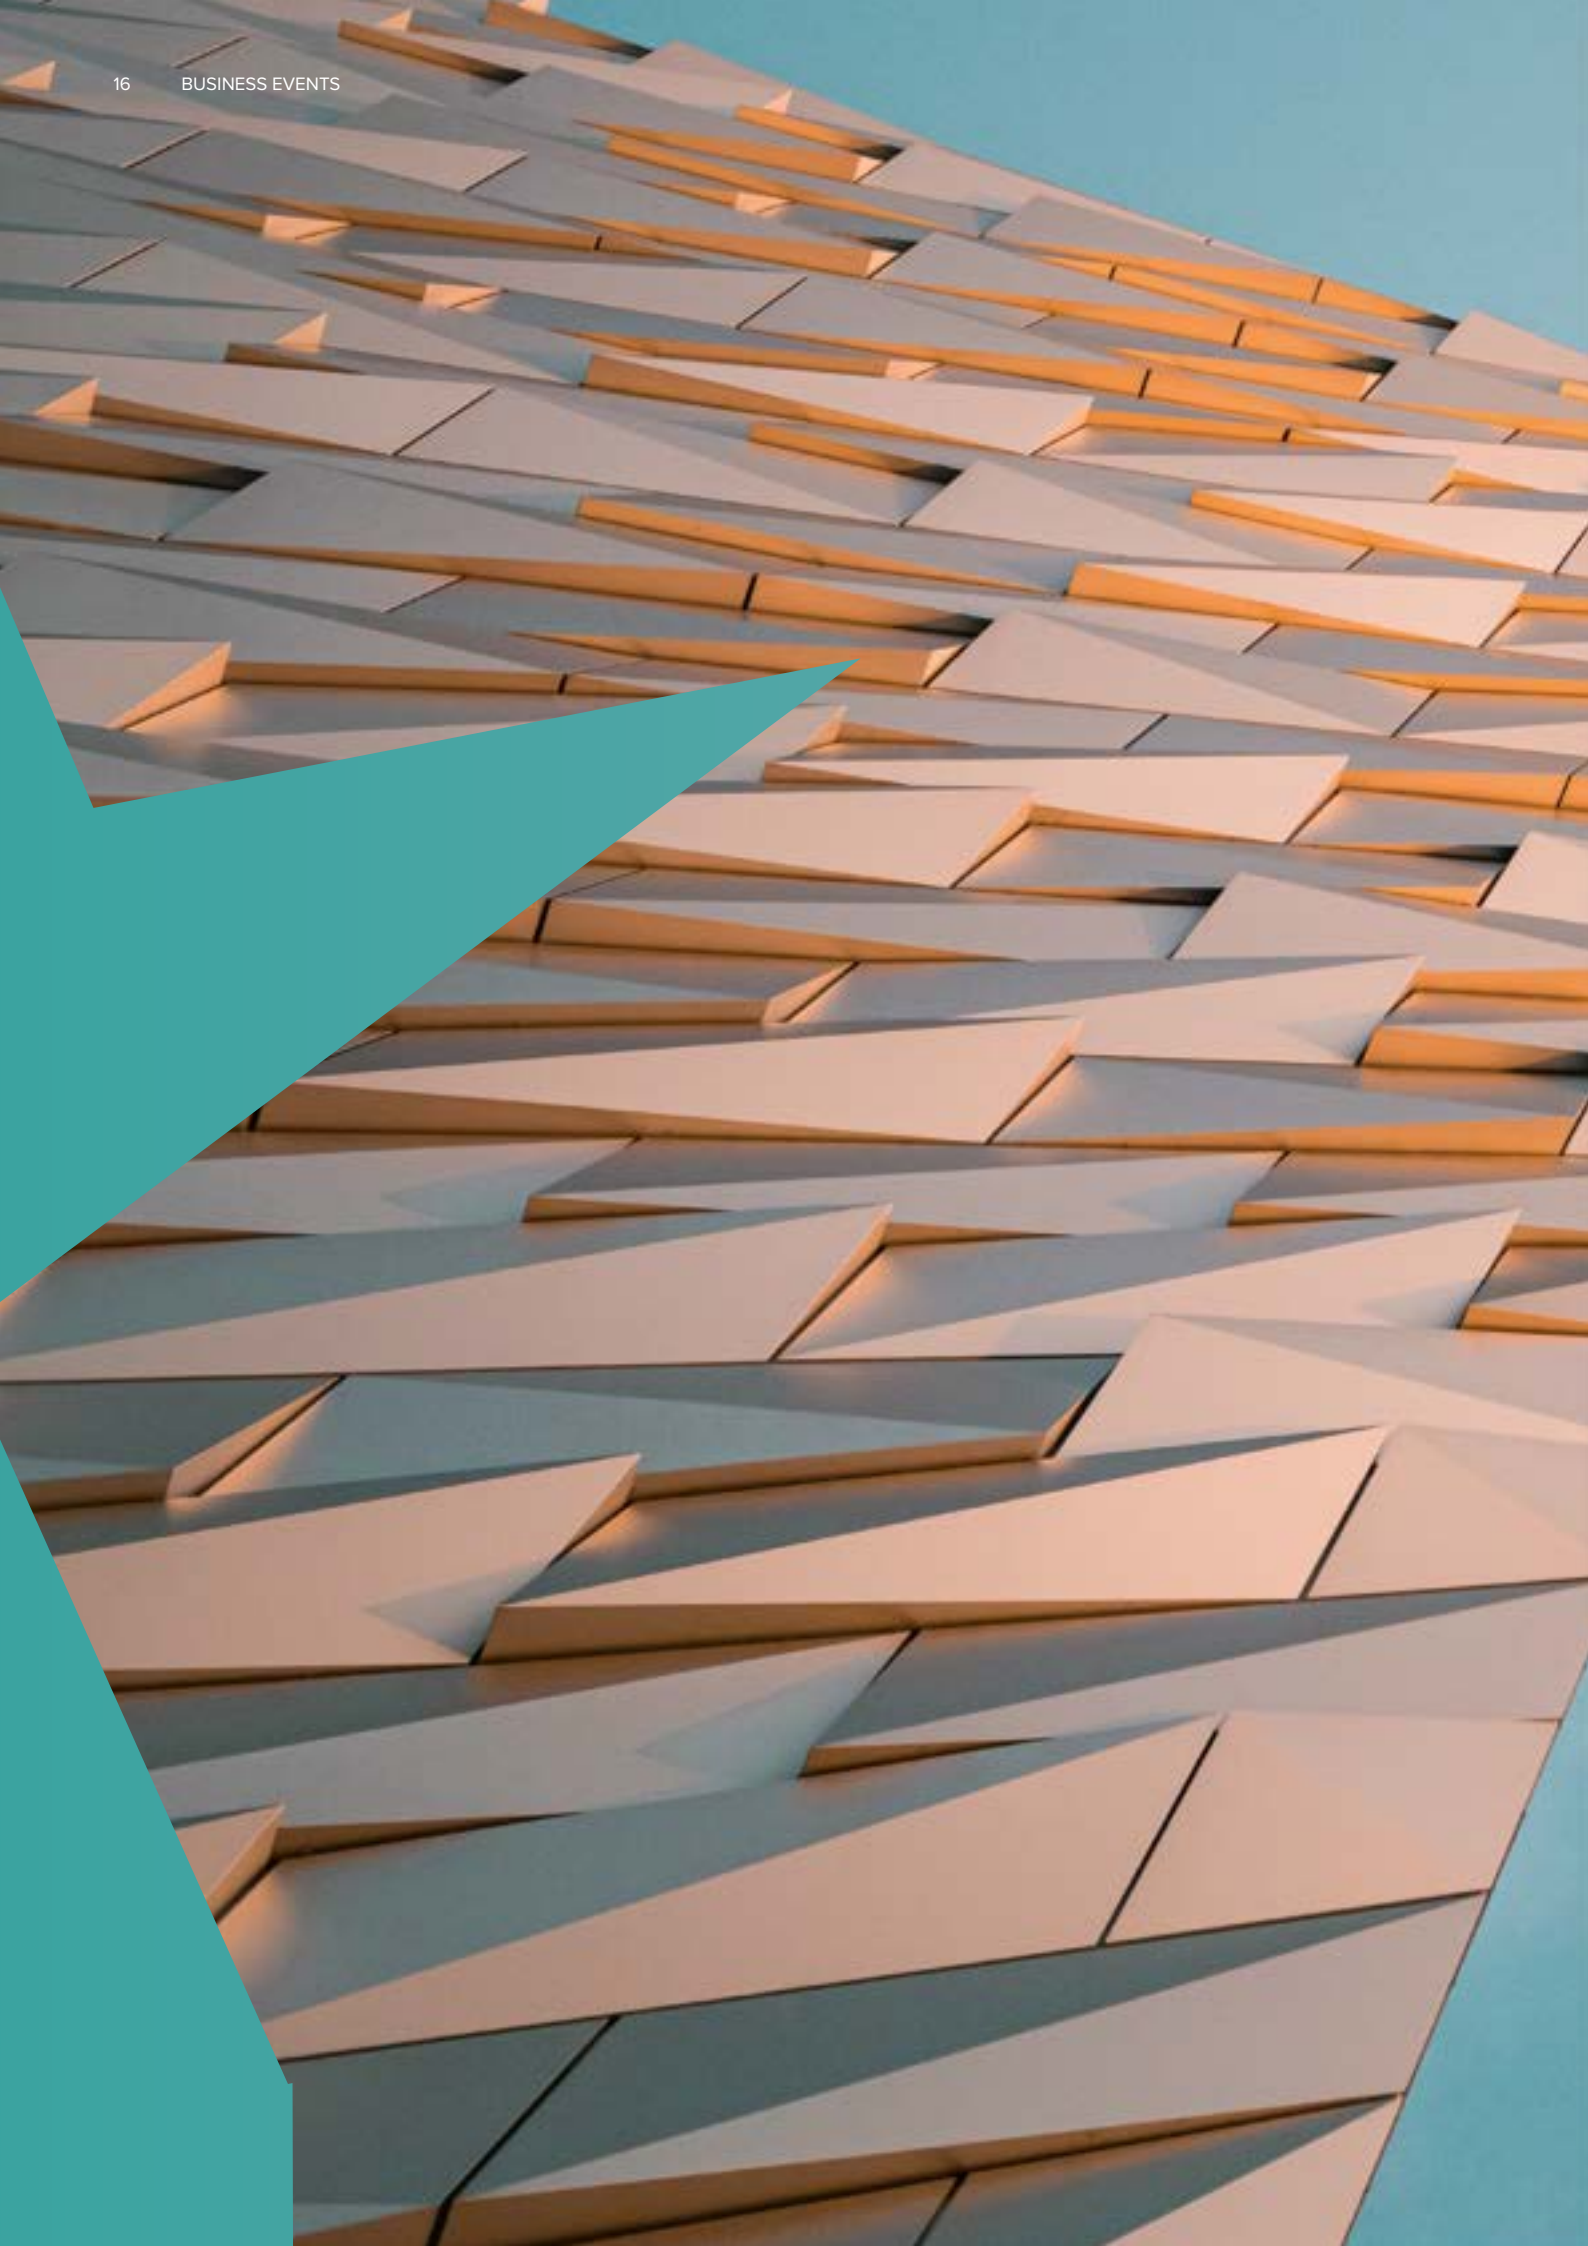

The event has been perfectly planned and perfectly executed...The event in Belfast has been exceptional and the feedback from our employees has been that this is one of our best, if not our best event that we have had at AstraZeneca as a company.

AstraZeneca 2020

The warmth of welcome given by those in Belfast and Northern Ireland is truly legendary and this alone makes the location ideal. It's also a very compact city which was particularly helpful in terms of ensuring all delegates did not have far to travel to the conference venues during the course of the summit. Alongside this it's a fantastic geographical focal point for work involving the Island of Ireland and GB.

Titanic Belfast is an iconic building that offers spectacular conference and banqueting facilities in an array of architecturally distinct spaces. With capacity for intimate dinner parties of 20 to 1,500 for large-scale receptions - the possibilities for your conference, gala dinner, exhibition or reception are endless!

Located on the top floors of Titanic Belfast with stunning views of the Titanic Slipways and Belfast Lough, where the world famous liner was designed, built and launched, the Titanic Suites offer clients enormous flexibility.

Titanic Belfast provides a spectacular setting for private dining and iconic tailored experiences. The opulent decor in the Titanic Suites is themed on the interiors of Titanic herself, including a replica of the liner's famous Grand Staircase. White Star Line branded crockery and a host of sumptuous menus created with the finest local produce, guarantees the ingredients to make your Titanic Belfast experience truly memorable.

As part of any event, visitors can experience the Titanic story in an authentic, exciting and dynamic way by exploring Titanic Belfast's nine interactive galleries which tell Titanic's story from conception to construction and launch, to its maiden voyage and subsequent place in history.

Not only are the Suites iconic and elegant but they offer practical surroundings with natural light, pillar free spaces and excellent audio, visual and lighting facilities.

The team at Northern Ireland’s only purpose-built international convention centre has a simple vision – to create a world-class stage where people make great things happen. First opened in 1997 and later extended in 2016, ICC Belfast became hybrid-by-design in June 2020.

Boasting over 7,000m<sup>2</sup> event space and more than 20 years’ experience in delivering national and international events for Association and Corporate clients including The Royal College of Nurses and AstraZeneca, the award-winning venue plays host to thousands of delegates each year with the aim of delivering economic impact that benefits all of Belfast and Northern Ireland.

In partnership with Visit Belfast and Belfast City Council, the team has committed to the development of a sustainable tourism plan as one of the resilience strategy transformational programmes. To this end, a sustainability policy encompassing 11 commitments that are aligned to eight of the 17 United Nations Sustainable Development Goals has been created by ICC Belfast. These efforts have not gone unnoticed as the venue was the first on the island of Ireland to be accredited by Green Meetings, achieving a silver award following the implementation of a range of initiatives designed to make the organisation greener, healthier, and more sustainable.

First opened in 1862, Ulster Hall is one of the oldest purpose-built concert halls in the UK and Ireland. This Grade A listed Victorian building has survived two World Wars and welcomed names as famous and diverse as Charles Dickens and Snow Patrol. Events across the genres of music, comedy and family are held in the Grand Hall, which remains at the pulse of Belfast’s live entertainment scene. In December 2020, the 161-year-old concert hall was catapulted into a new era of streaming and on-demand content. ‘Live from the Ulster Hall’ created a route to market for the local arts industry to engage their audiences via digital platforms bringing much longed for live entertainment to audiences in an immersive way.

Ulster Hall is the proud home of the Ulster Orchestra, the region’s only professional symphony orchestra. In recent years the Ulster Orchestra has expanded its event calendar with pops concerts such as The Snowman, Messiah and The Music of James Bond which have proven exceptionally popular with audiences young and old and provided the local community with an opportunity to engage with classical music at a high level.

Whether it’s an annual gala dinner or a celebration marking the close of a conference programme, Ulster Hall offers a truly unique setting in the heart of Belfast’s linen quarter. As a sister venue of ICC Belfast, one team will work across all elements of event management, production and hospitality to ensure a seamless, world-class experience.

Be the first to enjoy Belfast's brand-new addition.

With a prime location in the vibrant Cathedral Quarter, our state-of-the-art Belfast campus is a newcomer to the city's skyline, providing a variety of dynamic event spaces. In addition to intimate meeting rooms and large tiered lecture theatres, our modern breakout spaces lend themselves perfectly to informal or gala dining as well as networking events, product launches and exhibitions.

Stunning settings outside the city

If you prefer to escape the city centre, the short drive or direct train ride to our Jordanstown Sports Village provides a variety of options. With extensive grounds and elite level sports facilities set in 114 acres, we can host a range of activities from training camps, filming, and residential groups to name a few. If you're looking to go further afield, we can host your event at our campuses in Coleraine on Northern Ireland's stunning Causeway Coast or in the historic and cultural second city of Derry-Londonderry.

The complete package. No matter which location you choose, using local produce, our catering team can work with you to develop a menu tailored to the needs of your event, with options from breakfast and refreshments on welcome, through to gala dining occasions and everything in between. Take the opportunity to enhance your delegates' experience with a comfortable overnight break in one of our en-suite bedrooms on campus or our team can arrange corporate rates with quality local hotels.

Our experienced Events Team are on hand to show you around our venues and welcome the opportunity to support you in planning and delivering your event. Calling on their extensive knowledge of the local area and network of suppliers of bespoke event services, our team can deliver a truly memorable experience for you and your delegates.

Dramatic architecture and an unrivalled choice of venues combined with the latest technology create a truly unique experience.

Choose from the inimitable halls and function rooms in the iconic Lanyon Building on the main University site, or the state of the art classrooms and lecture theatres available across the campus. Queen’s can host conferences for up to 1,200 delegates and private dining for up to 350 guests. A wide range of additional space is available for exhibitions, breakouts and receptions.

The University’s self-contained conference centre, Riddell Hall, features an array of adaptable meeting spaces for up to 250 delegates. This Grade 2-listed red brick building is set in a magnificent 13-acre site with its own dedicated events staff and complimentary parking.

The Events team at Queen’s offers a bespoke conference management service to suit every budget. From assisting with the bid process and drafting conference budgets, to creating websites and packs, delegate services and organising a lively social fringe, a full suite of conference support services are available.

In 2022, Queen’s was awarded the first Green Meetings Gold Award on the Island of Ireland in recognition of the University’s commitment to green issues and sustainability in the delivery of business events.

Titanic Hotel Belfast, formerly Harland & Wolff Headquarters and Drawing Offices, is the hotel that history built. Guided by the history and culture of the shipbuilding location, the building remains true to the story of Harland and Wolff.

The main Drawing Office can host functions of every conceivable format. Providing space for up to 250 guests, this event space is housed within one of the cathedral-like vaulted offices where many of the designs for world's most famous ocean liners, including RMS Titanic, were created. A dedicated arrivals space is ideal for pre-function drinks and entertainment in a separate bar area and offers the perfect reception and business destination.

Smaller events and meetings can be catered for in one of the five Heritage Rooms named after the designers and managers who spent their working lives there.

The accommodation levels are decorated with nautical and Art Deco themes, inspired by the style of the time, representing the art of shipbuilding and the 'Golden Age of Ocean Liners.' Bedrooms have streamlined Art Deco furniture and nautical touches throughout, with hanging ship's lanterns, riveted panels and unique maritime artwork in every room. The bedrooms and public spaces are a mix of genres, with preserved historic features, and contemporary artworks and decorations.

The restoration of this Grade B+ listed building is now a shining symbol of Belfast's golden age and the city's status as one of Europe's leading visitor destinations today.

The Ulster Museum is Northern Ireland’s treasure house of the past and present offering rich collections of art, history and natural sciences. Housed in an iconic building in the beautiful surroundings of Belfast’s Botanic Gardens, the Ulster Museum is a place of awe and wonder, a place with open doors for open minds to meet, learn and explore.

The Ulster Museum is one of the most sought after venues for conferences, gala dinners, welcome receptions and cultural evenings. Spaces conveniently located all on the ground floor offer flexibility for daytime or evening events. The spectacular Atrium provides a stunning backdrop for gala dinners and receptions, surrounded by some of the most iconic pieces from our national collection.

The state of the art Lecture Theatre features a stage, tiered seating, a bespoke sound system and excellent acoustics. The Belfast and Grainger Rooms offer additional breakout and hospitality spaces.

A museum isn’t just a building or a place, it’s a force for change which positively impacts on the lives of the people of Northern Ireland. If you choose to bring your event to the Ulster Museum this support directly enables National Museums NI to continue preserving, restoring and exhibiting Northern Ireland’s treasures.

The beautifully restored Cultra Manor is set in 170 acres of rolling countryside at the heart of the Ulster Folk Museum.

It offers a historic and equally charming venue for corporate events and hospitality. Dating back to 1902, this Edwardian manor house was once a family home and is now an elegant location for a range of events. Its grand interior with original period features provides a unique setting for gala dinners, awards ceremonies, conferences and meetings.

The large upstairs Kennedy Room adorned with chandeliers and stunning views is sure to impress your guests. The bright and airy Drawing Room is ideal for a smaller reception or presentation, and the terrace and gardens are perfect for pre-dinner drinks and corporate entertainment.

With an emphasis on fresh, local produce, our expert Hospitality Team will create exceptional dishes freshly prepared on site reflecting the provenance of the area.

Hillsborough Castle has been the official residence of the Royal Family in Northern Ireland since the 1920s, although its origins stretch right back to the 18th century. Since the 1970s, the castle has served as a venue for various stages of the Peace Process in Northern Ireland, and has played host to monarchs, ministers, presidents and princesses.

Hillsborough Castle makes an inspiring venue for events of all sizes. Elegant, yet relaxed. Graceful and intimate – it's a magical venue located just 20 minutes from Belfast. Whatever event you're planning, you'll enjoy professional service from an events team dedicated to your ideas and vision.

The Privy Council Chamber is a handsome and welcoming room ideal for small meetings and presentations for up to 18 people. Prior to 1972 this is where the governors of Northern Ireland would meet the privy council, their appointed council of senior advisers and politicians. The space comes equipped with AV for your presentation, along with fresh seasonal flora from the castle's gardens for your table. A variety of delicious lunch and catering options are also available.

For large-scale events, conferences and award ceremonies, the formal gardens provide ample opportunity for marquees set amongst pretty terraces and decorative lawns. The West Terrace Marquee Site overlooks the beautiful Granville Garden; originally planted and nurtured by Rose Bowes-Lyon, the aunt of HM Queen Elizabeth II. The South Lawn Marquee Site, used regularly for royal garden parties, is ideal for events with up to 350 people.

For evening functions, the castle's State Rooms offer a regal opulence that is sure to impress. From intimate dinners in the Red Room or State Dining Room, to conferences and presentations for up to 120 people in the grand Throne Room. Each of the state rooms has its own unique character, but all are guaranteed to add a sense of occasion and ceremony to your event.

Enjoy free Wi-Fi and disabled access throughout.

Welcome to Northern Ireland

DISCOVER NORTHERNIRELAND.COM

Of course, there's more than enough to keep business visitors and conference delegates entertained in the city, but if you venture further afield your efforts are sure to be rewarded. Belfast is the gateway to exploring Northern Ireland and beyond the city lies spectacular mountain and coastal scenery, in a land of ancient myth and legend. And the best part is that much of it is within an hour's drive from Belfast. Perfect for a little time out from your busy schedule.

DERRY~ LONDONDERRY

In 2013, Derry~Londonderry was host to the UK's first ever UK City of Culture. Dating back to the 6th century when St. Colmcille (Columba) founded a monastery, the city has been one of Ireland's continually inhabited settlements and is home to many historical buildings, renowned cultural venues and of course the 400 year old city walls. The city also boasts a thriving musical and literary scene to enjoy along with numerous city walking tours where visitors can relive the past.

The current Walled City dates back to the 17th century, when city status was received from the Guilds of London. The history of the city can be discovered in many of the key buildings that are located within the vicinity of, or close to, the city walls including the Guildhall, The Tower Museum and St Columbs Cathedral. For something different at night, the city walls and many of these buildings are beautifully illuminated, with feature lighting showing off the impressive facades.

Derry~Londonderry's restaurants, bistros and brasseries are booming. For a city of its size, the choice of food is quite remarkable. Whether you're in the mood for tapas with an Irish twist, lovely great cuts of fine roast beef or award-winning Asian dumplings, this place has it all and more.

The city also has a lively cultural scene, with numerous galleries and performance venues, as well as renowned festivals and events that take place on a regular basis – many of which take place at the city's Ebrington Square linked to the city by the impressive Peace Bridge.

There are so many wonderful things to see and do in Northern Ireland. From our warm welcome and epic natural scenery to our world-class food and unforgettable experiences, we know just how giant an adventure in this corner of the world can be.

FERMANAGH

Host of the G8 Summit in 2013, Fermanagh is a county defined by water, so it is no surprise that it is Northern Ireland's premier outdoor location for water based activities. Take part in the many water sports that are available, visit some of the many islands dotted around Lough Erne, try your hand at fishing or even hire a cruiser and navigate your way from Enniskillen, along the Shannon-Erne Waterway, which links Upper Lough Erne to the River Shannon in the Republic of Ireland.

Marble Arch Caves Global Geopark is host to one of the finest show caves in Europe. Visitors are guided through a fascinating natural underworld while stunningly beautiful cave formations glisten all around. Prepare to be awe inspired.

If it is food you like, then Fermanagh is the place to be. Sample the locally produced famous Black Bacon, or alternatively experience and participate in one of the numerous cookery schools in the area such as the Belle Isle Cookery School or Orchard Acre Farm. If you want something more relaxing, spend a day experiencing some of the National Trust properties that Fermanagh has to offer such as the Crom Estate, Castle Coole or Florence Court. Spend time learning about the world famous Belleek Pottery or travel back in time discovering the history of the Gaelic Maguires and the towns two regiments at the Enniskillen Castle Museums.

MOURNE MOUNTAINS

The Mourne Mountains are home to Slieve Donard, the highest mountain peak in Northern Ireland which rises to a height of 853 metres. This area is known to have been the inspiration for C.S. Lewis' land of Narnia in the popular children's books 'The Chronicles of Narnia'. Rich in flora and fauna, it is a paradise for walkers and bird watchers, full of folklore and culture.

As an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, the area has many outdoor adventure centres providing activities from hill walking, rock climbing and mountain boarding to mountain biking, bouldering, fishing and golf. Indeed the charming seaside town of Newcastle is home to the famous Royal County Down golf course, one of the world's top ten links courses. Other golf courses can be found in Ardglass, Warrenpoint and Kilkeel.

There are many forest parks in the region, including Tollymore, Castlewellan, Kilbroney and Slieve Gullion, each with unique characteristics. At Tollymore the Cedar Avenue is magnificent, and there are river, lake and forest trails of differing lengths, whilst Castlewellan is home to the National Arboretum and Annesley Gardens, the hedged Peace Maze planted with 6,000 yew trees, and the family mountain bike trails. Kilbroney is famous for its ancient woodland, walking and mountain bike trails and idyllic setting; Slieve Gullion's scenic drive offers stunning views across the Ring of Gullion, Mourne Mountains, Cooley Peninsula and Armagh Drumlins and has top class facilities for walkers and families. In the Upper Mournes are the vast tranquil reservoirs of Silent Valley and Ben Crom. There are many walking trails showcasing the stunning scenery and the 22 mile Mourne Wall also runs from peak to peak over some of the highest summits.

The towns in the Mournes area have their own stories to tell, such as the fishing villages of Kilkeel and Annalong, Banbridge with its linen industry legacy, Victorian Rostrevor and the historic City of Newry. To the west of Newry lies the Ring of Gullion, also an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. This striking landscape is an area steeped in Celtic mythology famed for its rich culture and heritage, and numerous prehistoric and early Christian sites.

STRANGFORD LOUGH

Designated as an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, Strangford Lough is Northern Ireland's first marine nature reserve and is the British Isles' largest sea inlet, internationally renowned for its marine, plant and wildlife.

The area is popular with tourists and noted for its scenery and picturesque villages and towns. As well as the main town, Newtownards, at the northern tip of the Lough, other notable examples are Portaferry and Strangford, separated by a short ferry crossing at its southern end. The area is known for its seafood restaurants and cafés and its unique crafts. It is associated with two great Scots, James Hamilton and Hugh Montgomery, who led the settlement of Ards and North Down, laying the foundations for the Plantation of Ulster by Scottish people, whose descendants came to be known as the Ulster-Scots.

Activities such as kayaking, fishing and sailing are popular on the Lough, and for the more adventurous the Sea Safari or canoe trails are a real treat. Activities on land include walking and cycle trails, golf, bird watching and horse riding.

There are also many fascinating attractions to be explored and enjoyed. Experience the vast marine life at Exploris Aquarium in Portaferry, or spend an afternoon at one of the two National Trust properties in the area, Mount Stewart House and Gardens or Castle Ward, which has mountain bike trails in its grounds. Delamont Country Park offers waymarked walks, a miniature railway and the Millennium or Strangford Stone - the largest megalith in Ireland and Britain - while the large collection of native and exotic water birds and wildlife at the tranquil Castle Espie Wetland Centre offers an amazing outdoor learning experience.

Steeped in Christian heritage sites, the Strangford Lough area forms part of the Saint Patrick's driving trail - indeed the area to the south east of the Lough around Downpatrick is commonly known as Saint Patrick's Country due to its close links with the Saint, and is known the world over as the burial place of Saint Patrick.

COUNTY TYRONE & THE SPERRINS

The Sperrins are the largest and least explored mountain range in Northern Ireland and one of Ireland's premier eco-tourism destinations, with rivers teeming with life, mountains, valleys, forests, lakes and outdoor pursuits. With its scenic windswept hills, County Tyrone has a special appeal for walkers. Gortin Glen Forest Park is made up of a network of 5 waymarked trails, each of the trails provide an opportunity to explore the beauty of the Sperrins and the woodland. Visit the Hill of The O'Neill & Ranfurly House Arts & Visitors Centre - the hill from which the famous O'Neill dynasty ruled Gaelic Ireland for over 300 years utilising a commanding 360 degree view of Ulster. Don't miss out on a trip to the Ulster American Folk Park, an outdoor museum which chronicles the story of emigration during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries; bring to life the various aspects of the emigrant's tale on both sides of the Atlantic. Whether you visit Todds Leap for an electrifying range of adrenaline pursuits, the Beaghmore Stone Circles for a glimpse into the area's ancient past, relax with a holistic treatment at Angel Sanctuary Healing Centre, enjoy a hike in Drum Manor Forest Park or marvel at 'The Tinnies' in Strabane. One of Ireland's literary giants, Seamus Heaney, came from the area and the Seamus Heaney HomePlace in Bellaghy, at the heart of the people and places which inspired him, houses an exhibition to showcase his life and works. The Sperrins and County Tyrone make for an unforgettable experience.

LOUGH NEAGH & ITS WATERWAYS

Bordering five of Northern Ireland's six counties, Lough Neagh is the largest freshwater lake in Britain and Ireland at 18 miles long and 7 miles wide and the third biggest in Europe.

Lough Neagh captivates visitors with its tranquil atmosphere, unspoilt scenery, secluded bays and skyward views. A haven for wildlife and home to a wealth of flora and fauna, the lough also has a rich Christian heritage, with the remnants of three round towers and one of the finest high crosses in the whole of Ireland, Ardboe Cross.

The richness of the wild flower meadows, woodlands, shoreline and open water means that there is always something special to see. The lough has two main islands; Ram's Island and Coney Island, both of which have significant historic interest.

Whether it is the mythical story of Finn McCool or the more scientific explanation that you choose to believe about Lough Neagh's history, the largest natural resource in Northern Ireland is undoubtedly an 'eco-treasure'. There is so much to see and do from history and heritage, visitor attractions to land and water based activities. Lough Neagh and its Waterways is the homeland of Nobel Laureate Seamus Heaney. Visitors can embark on a tour of Heaney country visiting key sites in the beautiful landscape that were important in Heaney's life and work.

Lough Neagh eels are famous across Europe. Protected by European law for their unique quality, you can sample them in the top restaurants across Northern Ireland. During the season pubs close to Lough Neagh such as the Crosskey's Inn, Ireland's oldest thatched pub, serve eel suppers along with traditional music and plenty of craic.

ARMAGH

It may be the smallest of Northern Ireland's six counties but Armagh certainly has no shortage of history, culture and scenic landscapes. Known as the 'Orchard County' owing to the rich apple growing country centred around Loughgall in the north, each May the county comes alive with pink flowers in the apple trees, and the annual Apple Blossom Festival celebrates the start of the season.

The elegant City of Armagh with its Georgian architectural and Mall which is celebrated in November through the annual Georgian Day event is best known for its rich Christian heritage.

The city is a main destination on the Saint Patrick's Trail and has been known as the spiritual capital of Ireland since the Saint founded his great church in 445AD on the hill-top where presently the Church of Ireland Cathedral is situated. On the opposing hill sits the magnificent St Patrick's Roman Catholic Cathedral. The adjacent Cardinal Tomás Ó Fiaich Memorial Library & Archive houses more than 40,000 books dating from as early as the 15th Century together with a fine collection of historical artefacts.

The city has many sites to be explored and enjoyed. Relive the battle of Barossa, part of the Napoleonic Wars at the Royal Irish Fusiliers Museum. The Armagh County Museum holds rich and diverse collections of relevance to the area. Discover the coin and art collections on display at No.5 Vicars' Hill or visit nearby Armagh Public Library and see the many hidden treasures such as an original copy of 'Gulliver's Travels' and Sir Walter Raleigh's 'History of the World'.

Step back in time at Navan Fort situated to the west of the city. This Iron Age site was once home to the high kings of Ulster and an ancient ceremonial site, and the myths and legends surrounding the site can be explored at the Navan Centre. The rest of the county also has much to offer to visitors of all interests. The pretty National Trust properties of Address House and the Argory are fine country estates worth exploring. Modern-day Armagh City is an adventure ground of narrow lanes, hilly streets and wonderful open spaces. A stroll along the tree-lined Mall is a great introduction to city life. Places like Red Ned's are ideal spots to soak up the atmosphere, while foodies can take their pick of restaurants or coffee houses. Uluru, Embers and the Mulberry Bistro are particular favourites. Within walking distance of the city centre, the 300-acre Palace Demesne was, until 1975, home to the Archbishops of the Church of Ireland.

CAUSEWAY COAST & GLENS

The 120 mile Causeway Coastal Route is internationally recognised as one of the Top Five Road Trips in the world adorned with an abundance of coastal villages, historic landmarks, beautiful beaches, country parks and the UNESCO World Heritage Site Giant's Causeway.

Join the route north of Belfast and stop off for a white-knuckle experience at the Gobbins Cliff Path. Continue along the breath taking coast road and delight in the romantic landscapes of the enchanting nine Glens of Antrim. Game of Thrones® fans will recognise several filming locations along the route, including Cushendun Caves (The Stormlands), The Dark Hedges (The Kingsroad) and Ballintoy Harbour (Pyke, The Iron Islands) among others.

Test your nerve and cross the 23m high Carrick-a-Rede Rope Bridge, from where you can enjoy uninterrupted views to Rathlin Island and Scotland. Catch a ferry to Rathlin Island from Ballycastle and be enchanted with its striking lighthouses and unique habitat, including a puffin colony.

Further north, you will reach the Giant's Causeway, a geological wonder, with over 40,000 interlocking basalt columns and a world class innovative visitor centre.

Stop off for a tour and a tippie at the Old Bushmills Distillery - the oldest licensed whiskey distillery in Ireland. Make sure to pack your golf clubs as some of the finest links courses are located just a few miles apart including Royal Portrush Golf Club, which hosted The Open Championship in 2019.

History buffs will not be disappointed with Dunluce Castle, a medieval bastion perched on a North Antrim headland, with historic links to the early Christians, Vikings and Anglo Normans. Mussenden Temple dating from 1785, in all its dramatic, cliff edge splendour, is located near Castlerock and offers spectacular views westwards over Downhill Strand towards County Donegal.

All along the route, the North Atlantic waters provide the perfect playground for your favourite water sports – ideal for whetting an appetite to indulge in some award winning food, made from local produce of course. The Causeway Coast and Glens is yours to enjoy.

Ards and North Down

Located within as little as 20 minutes from the buzzing city of Belfast and within easy reach by air, ferry and public transport, Ards and North Down provides the perfect destination for your conference.

A historic and cultured area, surrounded by 115 miles of beautiful coastline and luscious green fields, and home to Bangor, Northern Ireland's newest city, this region can accommodate large conferences of up to 500 attendees, or more intimate venues hosting as little as 10 delegates. From 5-star hotels to stunning courtyards, museums, business centres, manor houses and stately homes, Ards and North Down has it all.

Each location offers support to your conference, ranging from equipment for presentations to dedicated event coordinators. There are also opportunities for team building activities at some of the locations, or you can head out to experience others including paintballing, go-karting, off road driving and lots of water sports.

Time Out

Take time out from your busy day and enjoy some of the award-winning attractions in the area. Step back in time at the Ulster Folk and Ulster Transport Museums, learn the art of gin and whiskey making at Echlinville or Copeland Distilleries, or simply take in the beautiful scenery and nature of the borough on or off the water!

Savour and Enjoy

Experience award-winning restaurants or simply take some time out in a local pub or cosy coffee shop which all use locally sourced ingredients to produce a true taste of Ards and North Down. Why not take home a treat from one of our markets, delis, pantries and farm shops or sample one of the locally brewed craft beers or distilled spirits?

Tea Off and Drive

The area has a proud golfing tradition with golf dating back 125 years when The Royal Belfast Golf Club became Ireland's first in 1881. There is a total of 12 courses in the area, all boasting stunning views of Belfast or Strangford Loughs. Why not relax after your conference with a round on Rory McIlroy's home course, Holywood?

Stay and Relax

A warm welcome awaits you in the many hotels, guesthouse, B&B's or self-catering premises located throughout the borough.
